

Lidar Imagery of William & Mary Campus

The maps below show Lidar data of the campus of William & Mary. The map on the left shows us solar reflectance, with red areas being high reflectance and blue being low. The map on the right uses Lidar data to show us elevation. With the first return setting it shows us the height of trees and buildings around campus, blue on this map is lower elevation and red is higher.

